Wine Country Easter Family Meals
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Easter Bunny brought a few early surprises for restauranteurs in Colorado Monday afternoon.

With the ban on open dining, not to mention buffet service, many establishments were caught with reservations locked in and no way to deliver. Wine Country Inn, which usually hosts several seatings for an elaborate Easter buffet, had that dilemma.

Seasoned professionals that they are, General Manager Ian Kelley, Executive Chef Michael Deremer and Food and Beverage Manager Bridget Zlab swiftly made some major changes in their Easter plan.

The abundant buffet promptly morphed into an enormous Take Home opportunity for families who could order from the mostly intact buffet menu and pick up their orders between the hours of 11 am to 3 pm. Individual meals are priced at $26, tax included. A family of five can dine for $99, tax included. Orders have to be called in to the hotel at 464-5777 in advance so food can be prepared for pickup between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Each order includes two meats, three sides, dinner roll and dessert.

As Chef quipped, "Easter just got a whole lot easier. No fuss, no mess, just good food!"

Besides these innovations for the holiday, the hotel restaurant Caroline's is offering dinner service by order to be picked up between 4:30 and 8:30 pm. Guests can still have a hearty country breakfast by room service, and they can order dinner to eat in their rooms or in the courtyard by calling the front desk. They have the added advantage of being able to charge their food orders to their rooms and paying for everything at checkout.

"These are crazy days, but we're going to do everything in our power to provide the service and cuisine our guests and neighbors expect," assures Kelley. "Our staff has already risen to the challenge."

He added that to reduce the threat of infection, the housekeeping staff is taking extra precautions to wipe down rooms daily and public areas several times a day.

"We are determined to protect and serve our guests and our employees," he emphasized.
